Atrocious Murder Near Salem

SALEM, June 20.—A most horrible and cold blooded murder was committed to-day near Salem. A German named Conrad Werner left this city for home distant about four miles about 11 o'clock, driving a team attached to a lumber wagon. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the team stopped at the usual place of unhitching near the house, and as no one seemed to be driving the team Mrs Werner went out to the wagon and found her husband lying dead in the bottom of the wagon box, stabbed through the right breast. The deed seems to have been committed near Mr Parrish's barn and the corpse placed in the wagon and the team started homeward. There are different theories concerning the murder. One is that the man was murdered while in the wagon. A more fiendish and bloodthirsty murder was never committed. The entire community is startled. Officers and men are now scouring the country in every direction for some trace of the perpetrators of the horrid deed. Mr Werner was a good citizen and an exemplary honest hard working man.

LETTER FROM SALEM

THE TRIAL, CONVICTION AND SENTENCE OF THOMAS CERRAND—ALLIANCE AND ... —THE ... —MURDER OF A RESPECTED FARMER IN MARION COUNTY—OTHER NEWS ITEMS—A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT, ETC.

SALEM, June 20, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The changeableness of the weather during the last few days has developed all phases of epizootic ailment, and nasal blasts can be heard on every side, but when the weather settles down we will be all right.

The Circuit Court is still in session, but the docket will probably be closed during the coming week.

THE TRIAL AND SENTENCE OF THOS. CERRAND

For the murder of Thos. J. Hubbard, of Champoeg, was the absorbing topic of the week. Cerrand is a half breed about 17 years of age, rather low in stature but heavy set, and rather light complexioned. His looks do not indicate that he is naturally bad, but he undoubtedly possesses a terrible temper which asserts itself when he thinks he has been imposed upon, and probably would use the first instrument that he could lay his hands upon when in that condition to the destruction of life. The jury stood on the first ballot eleven for conviction, and after compromising as the twelfth supposed by recommending the prisoner to the "mercy of the Court" (whatever that may mean) in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. This recommendation of the jury has puzzled the Court and lawyers not a little. At the hour appointed for passing sentence the court room was densely crowded, and considerable sympathy was apparent on the countenance of many when they looked upon the prisoner—a mere boy—a felon convicted of the gravest crime in the calendar. When called upon to stand up he rose with a manner plainly indicating that he was fully aware of what was coming. And while his countenance did not change color his large and intensely black eyes had a settled expression of utterly abandoned hope of escape from his dreadful doom. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him he spoke a short time, but so low that scarcely a word could be heard even by those who sat very near. After the terrible sentence had been pronounced the crowd left as if to escape from the sad scene, and the prisoner was taken to his own cell, never to leave until the day and hour that his life will pay the debt of taking the life of a fellow man. "Verily the way of the transgressor is hard."

THE BRUTAL MURDER OF CONRAD WERNER.

This afternoon our town was thrown into intense excitement by the report that Conrad Werner, a very respectable and quiet German farmer, who lived four miles southeast of town, had been assassinated in broad day light and on a public highway. Mr Werner had been in town and left, as near as I can ascertain, about 1 o'clock P. M., with a common lumber wagon, for home. Report says that when last seen alive there was a man in the wagon with him. Be that as it may, he had gone about a mile and a half on his way when he was shot, the ball entering the right side and coming out on the left. From the description I have heard of the wound it bore a remarkable similarity to that of the police man recently murdered in your city. He bled profusely. The team turned from the road and after describing a complete circle, started for home. As they passed Mr Thos Cross' farm a lady noticed the team running and hurrying to the barn told several men who were there at work, that the team was running away, that there was no one in the wagon, and that Mr Werner must be hurt and laying along the road somewhere back. Young Cross hurriedly mounted a horse and rode back for the purpose of finding him. As the team approached Mr Werner's farm Mrs Werner and one of her sons saw it coming and ran out to stop the runaway, in which they succeeded, and found the husband and father lying on his back in the bottom of the wagon bed—dead. Word was immediately sent to town for assistance, and officers of the law, who readily responded, and made a critical examination of the spot where the assassination occurred. From the best information that I can get they found the tracks of a man leading into the brush, but lost all trace from there. When shot he had evidently slid off his seat, and having hold of the lines, probably turned the team out of the road, but they started for home and continued until they were caught as above stated. The family does not know of any person who could have any motive other than robbery for shooting him. The deceased has had no difficulty, especially of a serious nature, and the only way of accounting for the deed is that the murderer supposed that he had money. But as murder will out, the perpetrator will probably find himself in the clutches of the officers of the law, and answer for the same.

We will now turn from these terrible tragedies of life to notice the

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT ... FRANCIS

Which was rendered in a very acceptable manner last evening (Friday) to a very appreciative audience. The orchestra consisted of the very best instrumental talent in the city, which will undoubtedly compare favorably with any in the State. Dr. Brown's Dutch eccentricities gave variety and were enjoyed. The vocal parts were sustained by Misses Sallie Chamberlin and Jennie Stover, Messrs. M. L. Chamberlin and O. F. Royal, while Mrs. England and Misses Lizzie Jordon, Teresa Holderness and Gertrude Moores sustained and added new laurels to their already well established reputation as pianists. Our City Treasurer, J. H. H..., appeared and ground out a solo on his celebrated hand organ, which created considerable merriment. Master Geo. Brown sustained a new part in two pieces. He manipulated the sleigh bell in the "Sleigh bell Polka," and brought out music from an anvil in the "Anvil Polka," which added considerable to the entertainment. F.

A TOUCHING ROMANCE.—There is a touching romance in connection with Ellsworth's death which became public for the first time on the day of the dedication of his monument. The beautiful little incident illustrates woman's devotion. When Ellsworth died he was affianced to a beautiful young lady, and she vowed to ever after lead a life of celibacy. Years have passed over her young head, and Heaven has not been mercifully called to rejoin that other life which she loved better than her own, without whom life is death.

One who knew her attended the dedication of the monument, and inquired first, and eagerly, for the beautiful bride of Ellsworth's hovering spirit. She was not there. Surely she must be dead; nothing else could keep her from such a tribute to her ... He ascertained it was not death that detained her. It was not convenient for her to leave her husband and children. She had weakened on her vow several years since. Oh woman! in our hours of ease ... how ... the ... are planted how ... stick.

HOW ... GET A DRINK IN ... —It takes some little sparring, and an understanding of the ways ... to get a drink of anything stronger than water in the township of Lough and Feely. The whole township is under the Local Option business, and whisky by the dram is not sold, neither is it given away. Almost every head of a family in that sober part of the county has, however, a five gallon package of snake bite antidote. When a visitor calls it is hinted that the old man will not put the intoxicating cup to the visitor's lips because the law says he must not do that thing, so the old man gets two clean glasses and a pitcher of cold well water and sets them down by the jug. He pours out his own dram, looks significantly in the eye of his visitor, and then politely turns his back. The visitor who has not sense enough to take the Rough and Ready man's hint does not deserve the whisky.—Grass Valley Union.

A MYSTERIOUS MURDER

SHOT IN THE HIGHWAY—CONRAD WERNER THE VICTIM—INCIDENTS OF THE TRAGEDY—POST MORTEM EXAMINATION—THE CORONER'S INQUEST—THE WHOLE TRANSACTION STILL SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

(From the Salem Statesman Sunday, June 21.)

One of the most mysterious cases of assassination we have ever been called upon to chronicle occurred a few miles east of town yesterday, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock P. M., news of which reached this city about 3 o'clock, causing the most intense excitement. At the hour above mentioned a man dashed up to the Court House riding an animal whose frothy sides showed only too plainly that he had been put to his mettle in bringing his rider to the spot. Inquiries were at once made for a coroner, in the absence of which H. A. Johnson, Justice of the Peace, was called upon to

HOLD AN INQUEST

On the body of Conrad Werner, who had just been found dead in his wagon with a bullet hole through him from side to side. The news spread like wild fire, and it was some time before we could find out anything definite. We did however succeed in learning that the deceased had been in the city during the early part of the day, leaving for his home—about five miles distant on the old Rector farm—about the hour of noon. Within an hour afterwards his team was noticed dashing by the farm house of Thomas Cross, Esq.

WITHOUT A DRIVER.

The alarm was at once given and a man was sent toward town fearing that Mr. Werner had been thrown from his wagon and severely injured if not killed. Suddenly something in the road ahead of the rider attracted his attention. It proved to be the old man's hat, which was completely covered with blood. Visions of foul play at once arose and back he galloped past his own place without stopping, hurrying on to learn the fate of him he sought. Werner's home was but a mile distant from Mr. Cross' place, and on reaching there the worst was soon revealed, for stretched out in the bottom of his own wagon Mr. Werner was lying

COLD IN DEATH.

With blood still oozing from an ugly wound in his right side about three inches above the right nipple. His wife and children were huddled around the vehicle weeping and wondering over the sad event. They had noticed the team coming up the road and ran out to stop it, only to find husband and father a mangled corpse. The wagon bed was completely besmeared with blood, and traces were found along the road where it had dripped through on to the ground. Again the heart sick friend turned his horse's head toward town, and the story was soon told. Mr. Johnson at once started for the scene of action, and was soon followed by a number of citizens who were deeply shocked at the sudden death of one whom they all respected.

THE EXCITEMENT

Prevailed on every hand, and little groups of men stood on every corner commenting on the atrocious act. The impression of some was that it was the result of an accident, the shot probably being a stray one from the gun of some hunter in the neighboring woods. Others claimed the old man had money and it was a case of highway robbery with premeditated murder as the closing act. He had been seen in town but a few hours before and it seemed so strange that he should be murdered in broad daylight upon an open road. Sheriff Scott at once took the matter in hand, and in company with Messrs. Hawley, Baker and Minto, started out to find if possible

SOME CLUE TO THE MURDERER.

In company with Mr. Scott we were soon en route for Werner's home, and on arriving there found the body in the hands of Drs. McAfee, Payton and McCurdy, who were engaged in making a post mortem examination. The Coroner's jury had already been summoned and the evidence of five witnesses taken, viz: Mrs. Augusta Werner, wife of the deceased; Albert Bowman, her son by a former husband; Thos. Cross and Charles Burk. Their testimony went to show that the deceased had left home about 7 o'clock in the morning, having in his wagon some

BUTTER AND EGGS

For the Salem market. He only had a small amount of money in his possession, not more than six bits perhaps, and he was seen by them no more until he was found dead in the wagon. The evidence elicited no new facts, and after a few moments deliberation, during which time the post mortem examination was taking place, the body being laid out in the open air on a wooden bench—they agreed on the following

VERDICT:

We the jury summoned to inquire into the cause of the death of Conrad Werner find that he came to his death on the 20th day of June, 1874, from a gun or pistol shot fired by the hand of some person unknown to us. J. A. Baker, Foreman; H. W. Smith, John Green, John O'Brien, Wm. Stewart, Nathan Boyd.

The physicians also returned an opinion in accordance with the above facts, describing the course of the ball entering the body as before stated, passing backward and down, coming out about three inches below the left scapula and about four inches in front of the spine.

WHO FIRED THE SHOT?

Various theories are of course advanced and numerous opinions volunteered, but an examination of the ground near where the act is supposed to have been committed leads us to coincide with the majority in thinking the shot was fired by some one with the intention of producing death. It appears to have been fired by some one very near at hand, and the aim was evidently taken with unerring certainty. The cause of the deed we cannot even surmise. The deceased was a quiet, inoffensive man, with not a known enemy on earth. Sober, industrious and honest, he was respected by his neighbors and well thought of by all who knew him. His murderer must have imagined he had money with him, but his pockets contained just such as he had with him when he left home, minus perhaps a few bits. A pool of blood about a mile and a half from town, where it is supposed the deed was done, and the horses were afterward started into a full run for home. The whole proceeding is yet enveloped in mystery, and new developments are anxiously awaited.

IMPROVING THE WALLAMET

The efforts now being made to secure the cleaning out of the Wallamet above the Falls are certainly worthy of being seconded and encouraged by every one who wishes the prosperity of the section of country dependent on that stream for water transportation.—Salem Record.

Capt. Smith, who built the Canal and Locks at the Falls of the Wallamet, went up the Wallamet river some days ago in the interest of the Linn county Central Grange to examine the Wallamet river and make a report as to the practicability of improving the channel for purposes of navigation. Capt. Smith was accompanied by Sy. Smith, a well known river pilot, who was of course able to explain the channel thoroughly and point out the places where the most important obstructions are located. Capt. Smith has traversed the river from Harrisburg thus far, and as the great hindrance are located above that point he has been unable to form an opinion, and that opinion is expressed to a gentleman in Salem, seems to be that he has discovered no serious difficulty this side of Harrisburg that cannot be remedied by a moderate outlay in improvements. He names $80,000 as the probable cost of improving the river from Harrisburg down so as to give 4 feet of water all summer at the worst places, and enable steamboats to do a freighting business all the season.

A sudden death occurred at the house of Mr. H. S. Jory, in South Salem, soon after noon last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy, who live in the hills six or eight miles south of town, came in to trade with two sons and spent the morning at the stores, going at noon to the house of Mr. Jory. Mrs. Tracy picked and ate a rose and soon after remarked to Mrs. Jory that she feared she must have eaten some poisonous insect in the rose leave, as she felt very dreadfully sick. She fell over quite unconscious, and her husband got a horse and went for Dr. McCurdy, but found his wife dead on return, as she only lived about five minutes after the first attack. Dr. McCurdy inclines to the opinion that it was a case of heart disease or congestion.

A proposition has been made to the people of the counties interested to build a narrow gauge railroad from Corvallis to Yaquina Bay, by two men of capital and large railroad experience. The counties are to grade and tie the roadway, and the capitalists will then undertake to provide railroad iron and rolling stock as may be required, and will undertake to have the work advanced sufficiently to insure easy communication between the Willamette valley and Yaquina Bay within 12 months. A steamer to be placed on the route between the same and San Francisco of equal average capacity for freight and passengers, to the steamers now on the coast, the service to be increased with the further requirements of the trade. The parties contributing to receive stock for the amount advanced, or to be refunded the amount by the railroad company in transportation upon the road.

The title to the town site of Vancouver is the subject of an extended controversy and much correspondence between the Common Council of that place and their attorneys at Washington, D. C.

A miner just over from the Swauk gold mines, says that a nugget worth $160 was recently taken from the "discovery claim" in those diggings. It appears that while this claim has been paying good wages, the other claims were good for nothing.

The Olympia Courier of last Saturday says: "Through the kindness of Hon. B. F. Yantis, who left Yakima City last Thursday, June 11, for Olympia, we learn that Mr. Longmire and party were engaged in clearing the trail across the Natchess, and had reached a point about ten miles this side of the summit. They expected to get to that point on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Yantis talked with a good many settlers on the other side of the mountains, and found them unanimously in favor of opening a wagon road through this pass, so that they could come here to trade and bring their stock."

The New Northwest, of the 6th instant, published at Deer Lodge, Montana, quotes from a letter dated at Sterling May 20th, written by Wm. M. Quinn, one of the discoverers of the Jefferson river mines, to R. Harris of Deer Lodge, in which he says: "The diggings on Jefferson river are without a question of doubt, as good as any man wants—so far as they have been tried. Three men rocked out with a hand rocker, working under considerable disadvantage, $51 in about seven or eight hours. That was the biggest day's work we did. It run from $35 to $50 a day as long as we worked. We got out in the river about twenty feet from low water mark, gravel two and a half feet deep. Under present circumstances, I would advise no man to come here with the expectation of going to work, as the river will not permit it before the 1st of August, if then."

It was stated at Hope when the Onward was there on Monday last that an excellent practical pass had been found by Messrs. Combie and Trutch for the railway. This places the question of the superiority of the Fraser valley route beyond a doubt.

Mr. Wallace, Postoffice Inspector, has succeeded in making arrangements by which the mails will reach Victoria one day earlier than has been the case. It appears that they were always taken to Olympia. By the new arrangement they will be taken to Tacoma in the cars and placed on board the steamer for Victoria at that port.

Mr. Charles, of Victoria, has received telegraphic advice of the recovery of 11 casks of furs, forming part of the Hudson Bay Co's shipment on board the wrecked steamship Pacific Alaid. These were in the forward hold and would seem to indicate that the vessel ran bows on the beach, while her stern remained in deep water, and ultimately separated from the forward part of the ship.

Mr. Wardle, mail carrier, arrived at Victoria from Kootenai with the mails and express. He reports the water high and nothing doing except in the hydraulic claims. P. POLITICAL STRATEGY IN COLUMBIA COUNTY

A very worthy resident of Columbia county whose [illegible] has not yet become accustomed to the ways that are dark in [illegible] politics addresses to the OREGONIAN a letter showing up one of the tricks by which a little ring of politicians or a ring of little politicians in St Helens contrived to make Nehalem precinct give just such a vote as was by them deemed necessary. Our correspondent alleges that the [illegible] at St Helens designated [illegible] to get [illegible] for Nehalem precinct that [illegible] posted the notices thereof in conspicuous places and afterwards sent poll books to another third place which had not been advertised. On the day of election the voters repaired to the lawful and [illegible] place of voting, polls were opened, poll books were provided, judges and clerks were sworn in, and a number of ballots were recorded. Afterwards all the formalities of law were complied with in the counting, stringing and forwarding of ballots, the poll books were duly certified to and sent immediately to St Helens.

Meanwhile in another part of the precinct in the third polling place above alluded to other citizens of the precinct were carrying on a rival election. Poll books were opened, judges and clerks were provided and a number of Freedom's snowflakes registered the decrees of the much voting Nehalem. These latter poll books were also sent to the county seat. On the canvass of the votes the poll books from the first mentioned polling place were laid aside and adjudged illegal although that was the only polling place duly designated and advertised at which any votes were received. The board of canvassers went farther: they counted the vote cast at the second polling place for which no judges of election had been appointed by the County Court. The notices required by law were not posted, and a good part of the people of the precinct seem to have been ignorant of the fact that an election was to be held at that place.

If these allegations be true there is offered an excellent opportunity for the board of canvassers to rise to explain. It is said this strategy was adopted by the St Helens ring because they feared that on a fair and honest vote their candidates for Sheriff and County Judge would be defeated. Whatever may have been their purpose the trick was a disgraceful one, if the facts correspond to the report which has reached us.

EXIT BANFIELD

Banfield—E. C., Easy Conscience, Banfield—has gone out and Blufford Wilson, of Illinois, has come in. Few individuals connected with the Treasury Department have ever retired from office with reputations so pungently odorous as the one acquired by Banfield during the past three months. His complicity in the Sanborn inquiry was enough to secure his summary dismissal. Instead of his being kicked out in disgrace at once, we have seen him hold on like a barnacle. Banfield was waiting to be vindicated. He had a set of those extraordinary shoe latchets which (as we are informed by Mr Frederick A Sawyer) appertain to the apparel of every member of the Administration and ever since the publication of the proofs of his guilt he has been engaged in the uphill business of finding somebody worthy to unloose them. He has succeeded at last. President Grant has undertaken the job and if he had administered a little judicious bastinado with these same shoe latchets by way of parting salute, no one would have regretted it—not even that gushing patriot and Christian Statesman Brother Harlan. The administration ship will sail all the easier after her coppers have been thoroughly scraped and all these barnacles removed. A little scraping in this section would not be wholly unprofitable. Perhaps, however, the President has not yet heard of that species of the sedentary crustaceans which infest copper domes. The work of ridding the Treasury Department of knaves and incompetents goes bravely on. The country is well rid of Banfield, one of the most impudent rascals that ever got into position under any administration. We should like to hear that he has repented and made a donation to the Conscience Fund.

One of the decisive moves which have thus early signalized Mr Bristow's accession to office is the transfer of the Special Agents Bureau from the office of the Secretary of the Treasury to the control of the Commissioner of Customs. Secretary Chase once made a similar order giving as a reason therefor the cause alluded to in Mr Bristow's recent order—the multiplicity of details in the office of the Secretary which require constant personal attention. It was on this rock that Mr Richardson split. His successor intends to shun this. The country [illegible] is hopeful that Mr Bristow will [illegible] jobs [illegible] schemes in the ordinary routine of official business.

The Pittsburgh Commercial growls because "judging from the returns of the Oregon election there were about 10,000 votes cast—less than the average of many wards in Philadelphia." Perhaps it would be well if even with their immense population those Philadelphia wards had 10,000 honest voters. The Commercial [illegible] "Yet Oregon with her 10,000 votes has a member of Congress and two United States Senators. We object most decidedly." So do we. It is a shame that our John [illegible] by the side of a man like Simon Cameron.

Another creditable thing done by Secretary Bristow [illegible] which followed a personal inspection of the pay rolls of his department is the [illegible] charge of a small army of men [illegible] whose names appear on the rolls but [illegible] no service—sinecurists like that [illegible] son of Mars and useful political [illegible] writer Col Robert J Hinton. It looks [illegible] as if some one had caught a Tartar [illegible] Kentucky lawyer.

Congress has [illegible] the one sensible thing in [illegible] that there shall be no publication in the newspapers of the revised statutes. [illegible] publication would cost $100,000. There [illegible] many national [illegible] organs [illegible] which [illegible]

THE INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND

The Annual Examination of this Institution was held at Salem last Wednesday. Being held by the State Board of Education for their satisfaction and information as to the manner in which these pupils of the State had been cared for and instructed it was not announced to the public and was attended by few except the Board and teachers.

During the past year there has been only nine pupils—quite a small number it is true but yet as large as can be supported by the appropriation made by the Legislature of 1872. Of these pupils three are males and six females. Their ages vary between thirteen to thirty three years. They have been maintained and instructed without expense to them and have been taught reading, spelling, writing, printing, geography, history, mental arithmetic, ciphering and vocal and instrumental music. The programme which we publish elsewhere will give our readers some idea of the extent of the course of study which has been pursued. The writing is done with a lead pencil by means of grooved tablets while the ciphering is performed on a slate cut across two ways uniformly into open spaces and by means of zinc types which have figures instead of the letters that ordinary type have. The printing is done by means of type pointed with pins, by which the paper after having been placed in a suitable frame is perforated. We have before us some specimens of this pin printing and also of the raised letters which any of our readers are at liberty to examine. Besides these studies, the girls have also practiced as they wished some of the various duties of housekeeping. And they have made many useful and ornamental articles such as lamp mats, tidies and sacks. Nearly all the instruction has been given by the Principal to whom great praise is due for her labors in behalf of these pupils, who like herself, are afflicted with the loss of sight. The present corps of instructors consists of Rev J H Babcock, Superintendent, Miss Nellie Simpson, Principal, and Miss Dora Hernandez Music Teacher.

Governor Grover and Hon S F Chadwick are the members of the Board who were present at the examination. They expressed very emphatically their great pleasure with the manner in which the school had been conducted. At the same time, those who know the diligence and the care with which the Board have provided for the wants of the pupils, testify that the important trust which the State has put in their hands has been wisely and faithfully discharged. The next session of the Institute begins Sept 14.

COUNTY BONDS TO RAILWAYS

An official inquiry into the value of different classes of real property in New York discloses certain facts which it will be well for young States to remember, in relation to the effect of local subsidies to the building of railways. The report says:

> It is generally believed that the construction of railroads through a country appreciate the value of farm lands. This is unquestionably true where the road is built by subscription of the capitalists and bonds issued on the road but we found in some of the towns and counties where they were bonded in aid of railroads, that the effect had been to cause a heavy decline in the value or price of farms, unless located quite near the village of considerable size, where business and trade were concentrating by reason of the construction of the road. In answer to our inquiry, why has the building of this railroad depreciated the value of real estate the reply was uniform that the bonds are regarded as a mortgage upon all our taxable property. The interest and, generally the principal, must be paid by taxation and those having money to invest in farms or lands will purchase in localities not subject to this kind of mortgage." In many of the best agricultural counties the number of farms is constantly decreasing and the population is not so large now as ten or twenty years ago. The increase in population if any is in the cities and villages.

THE GRADUATING CLASS AT YALE.—The customary statistical statement concerning the Senior Class at Yale shows that the class has had in all 182 members and expects to graduate 123 men; if it does this it will be the largest Yale has ever graduated with one exception—the class of 1872. Of the 182 32 are from this State, 13 from this city and 4 from Brooklyn. The average at entrance was 18 years, [illegible] months and 15 days and at graduation will be 22 years 3 months and 23 days, this class being a little younger than the average for the last ten years. At graduation the oldest will be over [illegible] years old and the youngest a little over 18. The average weight is 151 pounds 10 ounces, the heaviest weighing 191 pounds, and the lightest a little under 125. The average hight is 5 feet 8 1-6 inches. Forty eight will be lawyers, 10 ministers and 13 business men. Sixty two are church members of whom 20 are Congregationalists, 12 Presbyterians and 12 Episcopalians. Eight have no definite religion. There are 69 straight Republicans, 10 Liberals, 13 Independents and 12 Democrats. 87 are free traders and 22 protectionists. The class contains 116 hard money men and only 4 in favor of paper currency. Four have never belonged to any secret society. All but 25 have had letters home. One has never handed in an excuse or cut a recitation. The average annual expenditure has been $1[illegible]. The class has lost only three members by death: A C Tibbals of Meriden, G C Bennett of New Haven and W A Gregory of Danbury.—N. Y. Times.

[illegible].—Colorado has long been clamoring for admission into the Union and at last her cries have pierced the heart of the party. The request has been taken under advisement. If there is still time sufficient for the purpose an admission bill will be put through Congress at the present session. Evidently the party managers are apprehensive that the loyalty of the Senate may suffer by contamination at the hands of [illegible] and [illegible] Bill [illegible] and it is the intention to give that body a strong infusion of new blood from the Southwestern Territories. A grateful people always at first adheres to the party which gave it political existence.—Chicago Tribune.

A [illegible].—A dispatch from [illegible] dated June 1st says: "At a Sunday School picnic held near [illegible] on Saturday, some twenty one or twenty two persons were poisoned by eating cake. [illegible] the frosting of the cake contained [illegible] of poison. One case, a Mr J D [illegible], proved fatal. The other cases are said to be out of danger."

SETTLED UP.—As far as Sacramento is concerned the Local Option dispute may be considered at an end. Old Mose [illegible] the original [illegible] Mose [illegible] who was interviewed [illegible] Local Option [illegible] to be [illegible] right here in Sacramento [illegible]

[illegible] IN.—A Montreal [illegible] dated June 1st—10 P M—says: "The river bank began to cave in in the rear of the [illegible] Telegraph office at half past 10 [illegible] of the bank is now fifty feet. The Telegraph power press is taken down and the whole office is in confusion. The brink of the river is now at the back steps and the caving continues."

CITY.

VERDICT RENDERED.—In the case of State vs Robert Gibbens, indicted and tried in the Circuit Court for the murder of Charles F Schoppe, on the 13th inst the argument closed and the cause was submitted to the jury about half-past 4 o'clock on Friday evening Immediately on receiving the charge from the Court, the jury retired For some reason it was thought that the jury would disagree and for a long time appearances seemed to fully warrant the prediction All during Friday night no rap on the door of the room where the jurors were deliberating rewarded the vigils of the sleepy bailiff Broad daylight found the jury still undecided Nine o'clock arrived and still no verdict Noon next and the jury still out Two o'clock—three—came tardily along but no welcome rap sounded on the door Then died all hope of the jury ever deciding the problem of life or death. Public suspense was wrought to a high pitch and the leading question of the hour on the street was, Has the jury rendered a verdict? But the most intense and painful suspense was experienced by the criminal who confined in his cell below counted the minutes and hours as they rolled slowly by A few minutes past 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon—after having been out twenty-four hours—the jury gave a loud rap. Joyfully and with alacrity the bailiff responded The Judge was notified and was soon on the bench. Gibbens was also apprised that the jury had solved the problem of weal or woe and he entered the Court room with faltering foot steps and a wildly palpitating heart Soon all was silent. Said Judge Upton Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict? The foreman nodded affirmatively and handed a slip of paper to the Clerk, who arose and read in a loud clear voice "We the jury find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree" Under the staggering blow the prisoner bore up with remarkable fortitude He sank down on the seat with no perceptible change of manner, except his [illegible] were blanched for a moment. He soon [illegible] his usual composure, and seemed as if the great suspense of the past twenty-four hours was lifted from his mind and he could now more clearly view his hapless fate and await the result. The prisoner was remanded to his cell and the jury discharged Sentence will be passed on the prisoner Thursday We understand that Mr Caples, the counsel for [illegible], intends to file a motion for a new trial.

A HEAVY FISTICUFF.—One of the heaviest "mills" which we have witnessed in a long time, occurred yesterday afternoon on Morrison street, near the corner of First The principal actors were Perry G Baker Jack Drew and Louis Favero Drew and Favero were slightly intoxicated, and having an old grudge to settle with Baker, tackled him for a rough and tumble Baker asked to be excused; but the other fellows refused to do so They persisted in following Baker up and finally tore his coat off his back Baker finding that nothing but a row would settle the matter, let drive. It settled the dispute very effectively and with astonishing effect. Just one-fourth of a minute elapsed from the opening to the conclusion of hostilities. At the end of the first round Baker came off without a scratch while his assailants—rather the fragments of what remained—were carefully gathered up and Dr Davenport summoned who at once [illegible] to mend the damage Talk of bloody eyes and black noses! One glance at Favero's and Drew's countenances would remind a person of a vacated slaughter-pen. Such heads, noses and eyes would astonish the average peacemaker We understand the little differences will be investigated in the Police Court this morning

GERMAN SCHOOL FEST.—Agreeable to announcement, the pupils of the Independent German School held their Fourth Annual Fest at Voss Villa yesterday The Fest was to have been given the preceding week at East Portland Park, but was deferred in consequence of unfavorable circumstances A most [illegible] and agreeable day was vouchsafed and everything conspired to render the affair successful And a success it was All the pupils of the school were out with their teacher and parents lent their presence on the occasion to give assurances of sanction, as well as to join heartily in the innocent sports and games Several hundred persons were present during the afternoon Games of various kinds were indulged in by the children, and by many who could scarcely be called such. Splendid music was furnished by the City Brass Band, and the large dining room of the Forest House was used for dancing purposes So between drinking eating ice cream, and various refreshments swinging [illegible] & chatting etc, the day passed away in the most enjoyable manner possible Late in the evening the crowd returned to the city well pleased with the day's pleasurable ex[illegible]

WOMAN RUN OVER.—During Saturday afternoon a Mrs Poley, who resides one mile and a half from this city along the macadam road, met with a severe accident In company with her son-in law, Mrs Poley came to Portland in a two horse wagon. Having completed her purchases the lady started to get in to the wagon She had partially succeeded in getting into the vehicle—had one foot on the hub and the other in the wagon bed—when the team suddenly started forward. Before the driver could possibly check the horses the woman was precipitated to the ground almost immediately under the wagon One wheel passed directly over the lady's foot, and the other wheel over her shoulders and head The foot was badly crushed also the back of her head was severely cut, and considerable injury sustained about the chest, However the lady is thought to have sustained no internal injuries. Immediately after the accident Mrs Poley was removed to a store near by and a physician summoned Subsequently the lady was conveyed to her home. It is the opinion of the physician in attendance that the lady will recover, although the full extent of her injuries is not known at present

PATENT PENCIL SHARPENER.—Mr Wm E Howell, of Albany, showed us yesterday one of the neatest most simple, but, at the same time, useful little inventions which it has been our privilege to inspect for many a long day. The contrivance was invented by Dr E O Smith, of Albany The invention is a steel permanent attachment pencil sharpener with diagonal knives cutting the wood away from the lead in a smooth and uniform manner By simply turning the attachment when necessary you have your pencil ready for use There is no knife to hunt up or soiled fingers, as is the case when you sharpen with an ordinary penknife, or by any other method Editors, who are called upon to consume more pencils than any other class of professional men can readily perceive at a glance the beauty and utility of this little invention Mr Howell and Dr Smith each own a one half interest in the invention In a short time Dr Smith will start east for the purpose of having a large invoice of these pencil sharpeners manufactured

A FLOWER MISSION.—Some three or four weeks ago upon the occasion of their pastor's preaching at the Insane Asylum some kindly hearts among the Unitarian fold, provided nearly 200 bouquets of choice flowers to be presented to the inmates after the services of the Chapel From time to time it [illegible] the intention of these friends enlisting especially the younger members of the Church and community to make up such a floral offering, together with any kindred gifts appropriate for the inmates of the hospitals and institutions of the place and also for the sick in private homes. We learn that the service next Sunday at the Asylum will be made the occasion of such an offering, and flowers will be received at the Church from any friends from 10 to 11 o'clock

TO PLAY AT SALEM.—Mrs F M Phelps accompanied by her company consisting of Miss Lizzie Morgan Miss Minnie Pixley Messrs Shanns, Belasco and Crowell will start for Salem this morning This evening a performance will be given at Reed's Opera House, also one to-morrow evening Continuing on up the valley Mrs Phelps will favor the citizens of Albany with a performance on Wednesday evening At Corvallis the company are to appear on Thursday evening The company will return in time to appear at Oro Fino Theater on the 3d of July It is an excellent combination of talent and we feel assured that the public along the interior towns will accord Madame Phelps a liberal support

OUT-DOOR SPORTS

The Pioneer Club will meet this evening to transact business of importance

There are at present three four oared crews practicing with a view to enter into a contest on the Fourth of July We trust there will be something done to make the promised regatta a fixed fact Let us hear from the knights of the oar

The College Club have sent word to the Arcadians that they will play the first game at Salem on Wednesday 24th, the second in this city on Saturday, 27th, and the deciding game, if necessary on neutral grounds the week following In all probability the Arcadians will accept the propositions

Lovers of fun will be treated to plenty of it if they take the trouble to attend the game between the Arcadians and the Minstrel Troupe Club at the Academy grounds to-morrow afternoon Little Mac the immense, will deliver the ball for his party in his own peculiar style which is sufficient to attract not only base ball admirers but a whole host of ladies

Owing to the failure of the Occidentals of Vancouver to put in an appearance on Saturday morning, the Pioneers agreed to play the Arcadians At about 3 o'clock nines were made up for each side as follows Pioneers—Oliver P Gearin C Wiley S S and Captain Barker, 1st B Thompson, 2d B R Bird 3d B, J Raleigh L F Whiting, C F Gallick, R F Arcadians—J Bird, P Matthews C, Speck, S S Austin, 1st B, Al Raleigh 2d B H Chapman, 3d B, Cushing L F, Hart, C F and Captain Northrup, R F Preston Smith, of the College Club was selected Umpire The game commenced shortly after 3 o'clock, the Pioneers going to the bat As the game was not a regular one we will not go into particulars It will be observed that neither club had their full nine out, and consequently the players did not occupy their regular positions There were several brilliant double plays, and a good many misplays In some instances the throwing was simply of the worst kind. We will not particularize, but submit the result by innings which will give a pretty fair index of the playing

CASSIAR.

The Colonist of the 17th inst says

Last night the steamer Emma Captain Lucky returned from Fort Wrangel which she left on the 4th inst She passed the steamer California on Sunday night and H M S Boxer at Bella Bella on Wednesday The Emma brought two miners little news and less gold The news from the mines is to the effect that the water was altogether too high for work and it was not thought conditions would be favorable for mining much before August The prevailing opinion appears to be that about five miles of Dease Creek will pay well but beyond that little or nothing seems to be known about the country Provisions range from $1 to $1 25 per pound Millard & McLeod's pack trains were expected to get in about the 1st inst The steamer Glenora would haul off after landing a pack train at the H B Co's post Steamboat charges had gone up to $80 per ton for freight The Glenora's hands will be down on the California Mr Laser received a letter from Mr Gorke He reports the firm's store up and their pack train in at the diggings on the 3d inst Moore Bros took out $2600 in three days but the water had driven them out

By the steamer California which arrived here on Saturday, the following additional information is learned

The news from the Cassiar mines is to the effect that the greater part of the auriferous region has been overrun with high water and it is thought that active work will commence about the 1st of July There were some hundred men in the mines on the 4th of June, and the majority of these were waiting for the flood to subside before going out prospecting The mines on Dease creek that were being worked were turning out very well Before the freshet came on three men on the creek are reported to have taken out 174 ounces in four days

A private letter received in the city states that the place is a terrible one and that the population are feeling the extremes of heat and cold in each 24 hours Several persons have been taken down with lung fever in consequence of these changes among them A J Knott, of this city who narrowly escaped with his life The camp is represented as being a fraud and that but few of those in the district are making expenses The writer was working at $10 per day, and we doubt not will soon start for home.

Little Mac and Bobby Newcomb and other celebrities from the Minstrel party took a peep at our lightning Hoe and folding machine on Saturday Our Jim thought Little Mac a queer fellow—and so he is

AMUSEMENTS.

The season inaugurated by Maguire's Minstrels at Oro Fino Hall promises to be even more successful than Mr Greenwall anticipated The first night was a jam the matinee was well attended considering the fact that one dollar admission was asked In the evening the attendance was fully as large as upon the opening night The programme of Friday evening was presented at the two performances on Saturday, and gave as much satisfaction,—many persons being present who had seen the first performance It is needless to say that Reed and Sweatnam did well on the ends—the vocal department being ably sustained by Harley Baker and Russell Newcomb Little Mac Welch and Rice and Knight played with greater spirit than before the large audience giving the performers much encouragement Applause after applause was given each act An entire new programme will be presented to-night Many seats have been engaged and a large house is guaranteed No troupe has ever appeared here that has given so much satisfaction The season promises to be a lengthy one if the crowds continue to attend in large numbers

A young girl aged fourteen named Maggie Mortimer was brought before Judge Mosher last week on a charge of poisoning a child of Jasper and Miriam Yoakum who reside on Coos river The affair occurred about two months ago and the unfortunate girl was held guilty though there was little to show that she had done the deed The evidence for the prosecution was insufficient to prove the guilt of the young prisoner and the jury rendered a verdict of acquittal before leaving their seats The trial created considerable excitement

On the evening of the 10th the steamer Eastport steamed into the bay with colors flying and decks crowded A crowd on shore greeted her with cheers which were responded to by the passengers and crew! This pioneer steamer of the Coos Bay an San Francisco line has been in trouble lately knocking about on the reefs on the California shores, and this was her first appearance in several weeks The vessel brought just one more passenger than came aboard her when she cast anchor at San Francisco Mother and child are doing well

HEAVY LOSS OF GRAIN.—The Antioch (Cal) Ledger of the 6th instant says that the recent giving away of the levees in Swamp Land District No 178 located near Point of Timber, in Contra Costa county, has been destructive of a vast amount of property greatly retarded the labors of reclamation and tillage and is altogether a sad, disastrous occurrence It is estimated that in this district there were five thousand acres sown to wheat The soil is of the very finest most productive character, and the grain was so rank well filled and free from weed or cheat that good judges estimated that the entire tract would have yielded sixty bushels per acre All of this grain has been destroyed

During the session of fifty hours the game was unbroken. Four bottles have completely cured me of one of the worst cases of Catarrh of which I have any knowledge, having suffered for months with an acute pain in the head and breathed only with the greatest difficulty I deem it due you as well as suffering humanity that this recognition be made of what we deem an invaluable medicine CHAS Q ANDERSON

TO MY LOIT

Dear love across the spirit's noon of dreams
  My lone heart listens ever for thy coming,
And far away the song of wild bird seems
  And faint the bees low distant humming

Upon the golden air heavy with perfumes
  From throats of myriad rich lipped flowers
The south wind with his airy plumes
  Leads captive summer's radiant hours

I hear the echo of thy familiar tone
  Thy step sounds quick and near
I start to welcome thee and find myself alone
  The birds low tunes are all I hear

Dear love my heart cries to thee o'er the years
  My spirit mourns and pleads for thee
I brimming my eyes with sudden tears
  My only prayer is Dear love hasten unto me

THE FRAUDS OF THE FISHERS

The Fishers are of Florida They resemble the Apostles in that they are fishers of men—Congressmen The resemblance stops at this point The story of the Fisher fraud is in brief this In 1836 when the Creek war was at its height in Florida the Creeks destroyed the houses herds and crops of one George Fisher Then the troops came up and probably saved the lives of the family It was a great pity Anon the original Fisher died His widow consoled herself with a new husband They lived together nearly a score of years in honest poverty Then they tried to gain dishonest wealth The husband of Mrs Fisher petitioned Congress for damages alleging that the pursuing soldiers had destroyed part of the crops herds etc This was about 1852 Congress rejected the unproven claim By 1848 the Fishers were really in need of money In came their petition It was decided that the troops did half the damage Accordingly the indefatigable family got an award of $8,873 which was just half the original loss This sum was probably absorbed in lawyers fees for the beggars begged again the same year This time they got interest for sixteen years on the award This amounted to $8,997 94 This kept them only a year In 1849 they begged interest from 1813 to 1832,—to-wit, $10 004 89 As they had now been paid more than they originally claimed with interest dating back to twenty years before they made the claim, they might have been satisfied But they were not In 1854 they handed in the regular petition This time they were rebuffed In 1858 John B Floyd was Secretary of War Here was a golden chance The Fishers got their claim transferred to the War Department Floyd figured on it and discovered that three-fourths of the damage had been done by the troops! So the Fishers got little less than $40 000 cash In 1860 after their documents had been improved by forgeries and the prices of the produce and cattle had been put at figures that a Parisian would have thought exorbitant during the seige, they attacked Floyd again That watch-dog of the Treasury now made up his mind that all the damage had been done by our troops He accordingly ordered the payment of $66 519 85 to the Fisher heirs Before this could be done Congress interposed much as it did in the Chorpenning job During the War stealing was not done in this way The chance came, however, afterwards The Fishers had survived of course The heirs to claims never die out Will Anneke Jans ever be bereft of descendants? In July, 1870 Senator Garret Davis presented the Fisher claim for $66,519 85 In the Galaxy for August of that year Mark Twain published the story of the swindle It apparently killed it The Fishers sent an ex Congressman from California to Buffalo to "see" Twain The latter declined, however, to be silenced True to his word, he has again exposed the fraud There is need of exposure for, incredible as it seems, the House Committee on Military Affairs has just reported in favor of paying this Fisher claim! The heirs of a man whose farm was ravaged by Indians in 1813 have already been paid $66,579 85, or about eight times their original claim, on the false plea that the United States troops did the damage and now ask for $66,848 more, with interest,—and a committee of presumably sane, non idiotic men report in favor of giving it to them If this sort of thing is to go on, the best thing a man who wishes to leave his children wealthy can do is to grow two blades of grass where one grew before, get an Indian pony to eat them, swear that a cavalry horse did it, and then die A grateful country will pay his heirs whatever they choose to ask —Chicago Tribune

THE EFFECT OF GOOD ACTING.

"When I was a poor girl" relates Mrs. Scott Siddons the actress, "working very hard for thirty shillings a week, I went down to Liverpool during the holidays, where I was kindly received. I was to perform in a new piece—something like those pretty little affecting dramas they get up now at the minor theatres—and in my character I represented a poor friendless orphan girl reduced to the most wretched poverty A heartless tradesman prosecutes the sad heroine for a heavy debt, and insists on putting her in prison unless some one will be bail for her The girl replies, Then I have no hope—I have not a friend in the world! 'What! will no one be bail for you to save you from prison?' asks the stern creditor 'I have told you I have not a friend on earth' was my reply But just as I was uttering the words I saw a sailor in the upper gallery springing over the railing letting himself down from one tier to another, until he bounded clear over the orchestra and footlights, and placed himself beside me in a moment. 'Yes, you shall have one friend, at least, my poor young woman!' said he, with the greatest expression in his honest, sunburnt countenance 'I will go bail for you to any amount' And as for you 'turning to the frightened actor, 'if you don't bear a hand and shift your moorings, you lubber it will be the worse for you when I come athwart your bows' Every creature in the house rose the uproar was perfectly indescribable peals of laughter, screams of terror, cheers from his tawny messmates in the gallery preparatory scraping of violins in the orchestra and amid the universal din there stood the unconscious cause of it sheltering me, 'the poor distressed young woman,' and breathing defiance and destruction against my mimic protector He was only persuaded to relinquish his dare of me by the manager's pretending to arrive and rescue me with a profusion of theatrical bank notes!"

The latest sport in Paris is to go fishing with cormorants Mr De la Rue has introduced the fashion from China and imported a number of those greedy birds from that country It is getting to be the rage in the aristocratic circles of the capital of France

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Trade in financial and business circles is quiet and but a small amount of transactions is reported but the demand for loans is said to be slightly improving. Money however is easy and likely so to continue until the harvest begins when the increased demand will draw matters a little closer yet but little fear exists of a recurrence of the stringency which embarrassed operations last year and the year before The indications now are quite fair for a liberal supply of available funds throughout the entire season But it cannot be expected but that rates will have an upward tendency as the inquiry for loans augments

Latest advices from the East by mail notice a continuation of the dullness which characterized the entire season of the spring trade but the prospects for business during the fall are said to be better and at least one less doubt will hamper matters than did in the spring The question of what Congress will do with the currency matter will be answered and although that body may leave it just as it found it the impression seems to be that it will perhaps have done the wisest thing it could have done in doing nothing

Ten thousand million dollars is not a bad footing for ten years foreign commerce to a country recovering from almost as many years of civil war—busied in restoring interior communications founding new and enlarging old industries and getting itself in condition for active business. That is the sum of the foreign commerce of this country to the commencement of last year It was composed of $1 559 928,241 imports and $4 939 57[illegible] exports—the latter exceeding by $459 61[illegible] And while in 1861 the importations were only $[illegible] they rose to $[illegible] in 1872 and the exports in the same years increased from $336 6[illegible] to $677 [illegible]

European Finance.

A Paris journal makes the following suggestion on the return of the Bank of France to specie payments In the present situation the forced currency has only a nominal inconvenience Stocked as the Bank is with specie it might without inconvenience restore to the circulation a part of its reserve and employ gold and silver with its notes in its payments in a regular manner The proportion between the three instruments of payment gold silver and notes might be a third of each, or two thirds of metal to one of paper The public would thus be accustomed gradually to a new situation, in which as gold would cease to be rare it would no longer be in ordinary business a favor to have it—a favor which however has become illusory as for a long time past gold has not been the object of any traffic in France and is not at a premium This would be a gradual progress without any sudden transition towards the definite suppression of the forced currency Inasmuch as gold bears now no premium in Paris and there is no export demand for it the moment for resumption is at hand The North German Gazette says the new coin will be issued by Prussia January 1875 That is gold 20 mark pieces will legally become in Prussia what sovereigns are in England and as provision is being rapidly made by subsidiary coinage for the withdrawal of the former silver money, the formal withdrawal of that old money which is to be effected by federal decree may be expected soon to follow the adoption of the new standard France and Germany will then once more have a gold currency and the vast accumulations in those countries again be at the service of commerce

Miscellaneous.

A war has been raging among the sugar refineries in San Francisco for some time and the consequence is a reduction of the prices for this article to the lowest living figures That [illegible] now well stocked with Island sugars which are offered on terms very favorable to consumers

The salmon catching business is fast taking rank among the leading industries on this coast. A company has been organized in Olympia to enter upon the salmon fishery and canning down the Sound Carpenters have also gone down from that place to Mukilteo, where the necessary building will be constructed. About twenty men will be employed in the various departments of labor A cannery is about being set up at Esquimalt, on Vancouver Island and, if that one and the one at Mukilteo pay, we may expect to have these waters lined with them in two years thicker than they now are with sawmills and coal mines.

The tea advices from China are of interest Operations had commenced in some of the country markets and Saryunes and Congous were 2 and 3 taels higher than last year while common grades of Oolongs were 5 taels lower quality of crop about the same New Teas were expected at Foochow on the 18th of May

The report that rust has attacked a few fields of wheat in Marion county is being circulated but a gentleman who has traveled through that section informs us that he learned nothing of it though he conversed with many farmers on the subject of crops etc It is hoped that the damage at most will be very slight

Coals in San Francisco have recently fallen in price Under an old contract one of the Nanaimo mines furnishes its entire product at $11 and is now getting more than its real value Ten thousand tons Australian coal were recently sold at $9 50 per ton Bellingham Bay sells at $9 50 per ton and Coos Bay yet asks $10 The market is a growing one but it is kept overstocked. From January 1st to May 16th 8 110 tons of Vancouver Island coal were received 21 718 tons of Coos Bay 8 1[illegible] tons of Bellingham Bay and 96 tons from Seattle

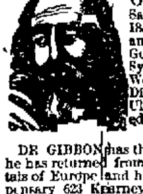
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!



Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY Street, NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has now greatly increased facilities for the alleviation of suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effect of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make due inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and infallible mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions. By sending Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications [illegible] confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus certificates, impose upon the unwary Some of these so called doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, [illegible] carriers intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting [illegible] titles certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he [illegible] to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1957.

[REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER Consultations FREE.
